NAC,

The column, UPPER TRANSIT OF POLE STAR shows for every day the mean time at which the Pole Star makes its upper transit across the meridian of Toronto. It passes in the morning from April 9 to October 9, and in the afternoon for the rest of the year. On October 9 there will be a second transit, occurring at 11h. 57m. 4s. p.m.

The four last columns, although computed for Toronto, will serve with sufficient accuracy for the whole of Canada.

The time at which the lower transit of the Pole Star occurs may be found by adding 11 h. 58 m. 2 s. to the time of its preceding upper transit.

From the time of the upper transit of the pole star may be found the time of its greatest western or eastern elongation, by adding or subtracting the constants given in the annexed Table.

Latitude.....	42°	43°	44°	45°	46°	47°	48°	49°	50°

Star Table.

From the times of the upper transit of the Pole Star may be derived, with the aid of the following table, the times of culmination, and of the rising and setting of the principal fixed stars, as seen from the parallel of 45° north latitude. To ascertain when any star found in the following table will be on the meridian, add the number in the left-hand column of figures to the preceding meridian transit of the pole star given in the calendar. To find the time of rising of a star, subtract the number opposite to it in the right-hand column of figures from the time of its meridian passage. For the setting of a Star, add the same number to the time of its meridian passage. Those stars marked (.....) revolve in a circle of perpetual apparition, and do not rise or set at places in and to the north of latitude 45°.

Eclipses.

In the year 1866 there will be three Eclipses of the Sun, and two of the Moon.

I.—A partial eclipse of the Sun, March 16, 1866, invisible in Canada.

II.—A total eclipse of the Moon, March 30, 1866, visible in Canada.

The following table shows the local mean astronomical time at which the several phases occur:

PHASE.	Quebec.	Montreal.	Kingston.	Toronto.	London.
	h. m.	h. m.	h. m.	h. m.	h. m.
First contact with the Penumbra	8 43.2	8 33.6	8 21.9	8 10.5	8 2.8
First contact with the Shadow	9 53.2	9 42.6	9 31.9	9 20.5	9 12.8
Beginning of Total Phase	10 59.6	10 50.0	10 38.3	10 26.9	10 19.2

Last contact with the Penumbra	14 53.8	14 44.2	14 32.5	14 21.1	14 13.4

The first contact with the shadow occurs at 98° from the northernmost point of the Moon's limb towards the east and the last contact at 53° towards the west; in each case for direct image. The magnitude of the eclipse (Moon's diameter = 1) 1.520.

III.—A partial eclipse of the Sun April 14, 1866, invisible in Canada.

IV.—A total eclipse of the Moon, September 23-24, 1866, invisible in Canada.

V.—A partial eclipse of the Sun, October 8, 1866, visible in part of Canada.

From a point in or near Quebec, in latitude 46° 29.2' N., and longitude 4h 44m 48s W., a partial eclipse is visible.

First contact occurs	October 8, 10h 50.4m A.M.	} Mean civil time at Quebec.
Greatest obscuration,	October 8, 11h 38.2m A.M.
Last contact	October 8, 0h 25.7m P.M.

Magnitude of the eclipse (Sun's diameter = 1) 0.126.

Angle from the North Pole { First contact 4° towards the west } for direct image.
 { Last contact 55° towards the east }

From a point in or near Montreal, in latitude 45° 30' N., and longitude 4h 54m 24s W., a partial eclipse is visible.

First contact occurs	October 8, 10h 44.9m A.M.	} Mean civil time at Montreal.
Greatest obscuration,	October 8, 11h 25.2m A.M.
Last contact,	October 8, 0h 5.6m P.M.

Magnitude of the eclipse (Sun's diameter = 1) 0.087.

Angle from the North Pole { First contact, 2° towards the east, } for direct image.
 { Last contact, 51° towards the east, }

At Toronto, latitude 43° 39.4' N. and longitude 5h 17m 33s W. no eclipse will be visible. The nearest approach of the centres of the Sun and Moon will occur at 10h 52m 7s a.m., Toronto mean civil time, when a space of two seconds of arc (2'') will intervene between the limbs of the two bodies. The point of approximate contact is 27° to the east of the northernmost point of the Sun's limb.

JANUARY.

JANUARY, worn and gray,
Like an old pilgrim by the way,
Watches the snow, and shivering sighs,
As the wild curlew round him flies;
Or huddled underneath a thorn,
Sits praying for the lingering morn.

The mean temperature of the year 1864 was 44° 70, or 0° 55 in excess of the average of 25 years. The deviation of the monthly means above or below their respective averages, and irrespective of sign, had an average amplitude of 1° 36; thus indicating a year of unusually equable temperature, the average amplitude in twenty five years being 2° 33. The highest temperature was observed on August 8th, when the thermometer marked 94° Fah., and the lowest on 17th February, when -15° was recorded, giving a range of 109°.

The warmest day of the year was June 25th, having a mean temperature of 81° 77, and the coldest day February 17th, with a mean temperature of -4° 62.

The mean deviations of temperature in the four seasons, with their proper signs, were: -0° 33 in Winter; +0° 79 in Spring; +2° 27 in Summer; and -0° 60 in Autumn.

The yearly range of the Barometer was 1.656, or 0.124 below the average of the past nine years. The yearly mean pressure was the lowest recorded during the past eighteen years, and was under the average .0537. The highest pressure, 30.327, was noted at 10 a.m. on 9th December—the lowest, 28.671, at 2 p.m. on 4th November.

As regards rain and snow, there was, on the whole year, an excess amounting to 0.656 inches of water. An excess occurred in Winter, Spring, and Autumn—the total precipitation exceeding the average by 1.136 inches in Winter, 1.388 inches in Spring, and 0.186 inches in Autumn. In Summer, the rain was deficient as compared with the average by 2.408 inches. This deficiency was not much greater than that of the summer of 1863; but the distribution among the three summer months was very different in the two years, for while in the summer of 1863 there was a moderate deficiency in each month, the rain in June, 1864, was less than one-fifth, and in July little over one-third of the average fall; that of August being above the average in the ratio of 5 to 3 nearly.

The number of nights possible to Aurora during the year was 188, as follows:—In January, 11; February, 11; March, 15; April, 10; May, 12; June, 24; July, 19; August, 12; September, 14; October, 11; November, 9; and December, 10. Number of Auroras observed 34—distributed over the year as follows:—In January, 0; February, 4; March, 2; April, 4; May, 3; June, 5; July, 3; August, 6; September, 4; October, 2; November 1; December, 0.

Mean elasticity of aqueous vapour was in January, .110; February, .119; March, .135; April, .194; May, .333; June, .380; July, .473; August, .516; September, .547; October, .248; November, .182; December, .121. Mean for the year being .263. Average for the past seven years being .260.

In the following summary several of the results for year 1864 are compared with the averages derived from series of years as well as with extreme values of similar results given by the same series.

The average lowest monthly mean of cloudiness in Jun (2) is the least of the twelve monthly means derived from twelve years, and does not include the least months in each year, as these fall differently in recent years. This explains why the highest minimum column (4) should be less than the average minimum. The average value of the greatest as well as of the least monthly means of the several elements, and given in Jun (2), are similarly obtained, and therefore do not necessarily lie between the numbers in columns (3) and (4). The case of the warmest days, or the highest temperatures in each year, and other analogous quantities, the averages in column (2) are derived from the corresponding ones in each year, independently of the time of their occurrence, and must of necessity lie between the numbers in columns (3) and (4).

PROGRESS OF POPULATION IN CANADA.

Quebec, in 1622, fourteen years after its commencement, is said to have contained only 70 persons, exclusive of those attached to the military and religious establishments.

In 1640, the Governor states the non-military population of the whole Province was about 700.

In 1666, the number in the Province was 3,418 souls, of whom 1,344 were capable of bearing arms.

Census of 1667 and 1668.

In addition to the above there were about 700 persons scattered through the Province, and in 1670 the Governor placed the whole population at 9,180.

In 1679, when the population was 9,400, the births were 64, or 1 in 23, and the deaths 85, or 1 in 110; there were 6 marriages (132), or 1 in 71 married.

Between 1675 and 1688, the quantity of beaver sent to France was 895,581 lbs.; about as much more found its way through the British colonies. In the trade returns of these years are mentioned two articles now unknown to our commerce, capillare and ginseng.

1684.—There was a grand review at Fort Frontenac, at which were assembled nearly 1,000 Indian warriors, from the immediate neighbourhood. At the same time there were said to be 1,000 Indians, 6 Frenchmen and 2 Jesuits in the Indian castle of Cognawaga, and a large number of Canac Sadagh (Lake of Two Mountains). There were 20 encampments at La Gallette (Prescott), Ouné (Akoni Ananoke), Gannilons (Napinee), Gannieraki (mouth of the Trent), and Ganalcheskiagon (Port Hope).

1685.—M. Dongan (Intendant) rated the population at 12,000. In this he is evidently wrong, as the census of 1686, under M. de Noville, made it only 12,373.

1687.—The population amounted to less than 18,000. In the spring of this year an immense herd of walrus came to the river St. Lawrence, and a large number were taken near Quebec.

1688.—Mr. Cox, of Carolina, endeavoured to form an English settlement in Canada, but failed, as did also his son, who made a similar attempt in 1725. In this year were enrolled in the militia 2,730 men-at-arms, of whom Quebec furnished 300.

1706.—M. Randot estimates the population at 20,000.

1714.—M. de Ponchartrai reports that there were 4,484 men capable of bearing arms.

We have no returns from 1714 till 1719, when a census was taken, as also in 1720, 1721 and 1734.

The following is a comparison of their results:

1738.—The Governor reports 10,000 fighting men in the Province, including 32 companies of regulars.

1740.—A few years before this date the King of France given license to a company to work the mines at Three Rivers, had loaned them £20,000 for twenty years without interest, and, still further to encourage them, had undertaken to build two ships of war annually at Quebec.

1743.—The French had two vessels of 60 tons each on the Ontario.

1744.—Census taken. Population return never reached France, and of course is not in the documents.

1748.—Population very nearly 50,000.

1750.—There were at this period 58 well peopled parishes between Quebec and Montreal, viz., 29 on the north and a like number on the south shore of the St. Lawrence. The population was thought to have reached 53,000.

It was either in this or the preceding year that M. M. De la Jonquière proposed to build a fort at Toronto, which he proposed to call Rouille, after his friend the minister of marine. This fort was thought to counteract the influence of the British fort at Chénagnon (Oswego). M. De la Jonquière also proposed that a small number of galley slaves should be annually sent to Canada.

1754.—A general census was taken this year, with the following results:

City of Quebec and parish.....	8,000
Montreal and Island.....	4,000
Three Rivers.....	800
Rural parishes.....	42,500

Total..... 55,300

The Quebec list contained 274 officials, priests and nuns; 100 first-class merchants, 100 master tradesmen, 400 less wealthy traders, 600 carters, 1,200 women, and 5,320 children and servants.

In 1754, no snow fell in Canada after the 20th January, and a great dearth raged towards the end of the year: the price of provisions rose to an enormous pitch.

Immediately before the English invasion, M. De Montcalm, in a letter to Paris, states the whole population of Canada was less than 82,000. This is evidently an error, unless he included all the military and Indians. The English, deriving their information from spies, rated the population at 60,000. This agrees pretty nearly with the report of M. Bouchette, who made it 65,000. It is a matter of regret that no record has been kept of the population at the time of the capitulation; neither was there of those who, under sanction of the treaty, went to France. We have of course the military return, which gives the number who left in the English fleet, viz.: officers, 230; soldiers, 2,425; women and servants, 507. Immediately after the capitulation, more than 600 deserted.

1763.—An attempt was made to rouse the Canadians to rebellion, but the letters and papers were intercepted. On Saturday, July 2nd, the Chevalier Chaussegros De Levy was presented to the King (George III.), in full court, at St. James', being the first of His Majesty's new subjects who had that honour.

1769.—The trade of Canada with England employed 34 ships, with 408 men. The gross amount of imports and exports was upwards of £220,000 sterling.

1778.—The Count Estaing published a proclamation, imploring the Canadians to shake off their allegiance to England. From 1763 to this date, upwards of 7000 persons were supposed to have emigrated from Canada.

1783.—Population estimated at 113,000, 10,000 of whom were in what is now Upper Canada. This year the immigration of the U. E. Loyalists commenced.

1784.—This year a census was taken of the three Governments of Quebec, Montreal and Three Rivers. The following was the result:

Houses.....	18,904
Married men.....	20,131
Married women.....	19,354
Males, { above 15.....	9,281

Of the above the parish and city of Quebec gave 6,472. This census is valuable as it gives the following Agricultural items, of which it is the first we have:—Bushels of grain sown in the spring, 383,349; horses, 30,096; oxen, 22,094; cows, 44,291; young cattle, 32,206; sheep, 84,606; hogs, 70,466; fowls, 10,836.

1786.—In this year the mercantile population increased very much. The imports amounted to £325,116 sterling, and the exports to £343,263. Amongst the latter were 103,824 minots of wheat, 10,476 bbls. of flour, £187 worth of capital, £211 worth of spruce, and £1,200 worth of glazing, the price of the last being £50 per bhd.

The figures are those given by the census of 1825; if, then, we set down 230,000 as the number of inhabitants in 1792, the increase between the two periods will be about 84 per cent., or rather more than 24 per cent. annually.

In 1826, it was proposed to subdivide the Province into 38 electoral divisions. No measure was carried into effect till 1831, when the 40 counties above given were formed, which division remained in force till the union, in 1841, when the number was reduced to 40, or rather 38. On the increase of the representation from 42 to 66 members for each section, the Lower Canada counties were extended to 60. These frequent subdivisions make comparison of local increase a very difficult matter. For the year 1825 we have two estimates; first, that by the House of Assembly, making the population 600,000; and the second by Mr. Bonchette, giving 450,000 as the figures. When, however, the census was taken, the population was found to amount to only 423,630. It has been said that the census was very imperfectly taken, and the rate of increase between it and 1827 would almost prove such to be the fact.

1831.—Mr. Bonchette, taking the census of 1827, 471,876, adds, for natural increase, 59,575, or about 3 to 100; for immigration, 23,000; for outposts, 1,600, in all, 561,060. A census being taken, however, gave only 511,922.

1836.—The estimate for this year is founded on a return laid before Parliament by the Roman Catholic Bishop of Quebec, which showed that the Roman Catholics numbered 501,224; and as the proportions of the denominations had been well fixed, the formula taken to express the population was

$$501,224 \div 8 = 57,653, \text{ being pretty near the}$$ average rate of increase, 2.38 per annum.

1844.—The rate of increase between these two periods is very high, under the circumstances. The outbreak in the district of Montreal must have very materially thinned the population, and certainly the transfer of the Government departments from the Upper to the Lower Province scarcely balanced the loss.

* The number of British-born subjects then in the Province was about 15,000.

1848.—The estimate of this year is worthy of notice, showing how near the truth those acquainted with the fundamental laws of increase, when, as in Lower Canada, not acted upon by exterior circumstances, at 1 who have knowledge of the people under consideration, can come. Lower Canada having neglected to take a census in 1848, and as no little interest was felt in the relative population of the two sections, it became necessary for the Board of Registration and Statistics, with the sanction of the Government, to endeavour to arrive at some approximate calculation. For this purpose the aid of two gentlemen, acquainted with the subject, and whose judgment could be relied on (the Hon. E. P. Tache and J. Cauchon), was sought, and most kindly afforded, as was also that of Mr. Tache. These three gentlemen determined to adopt a different basis of calculation, with the following result:

1. Dr. Tache's, founded on per centage
2. Dr. Tache's, founded on returns
3. Col. Tache's
4. Mr. Cauchon's

Lower Canada, taking the several periods, gives the following averages:

1825 to 1827, 5.69 per annum; 1827 to 1831, 2.12; to 1836, 2.38; 1836 to 1844, 2.57; 1844 to 1848, 2.80; to 1852, 3.91; 1852 to 1861, 2.76. If we take the number for 1825 to be correct (423,630), we have an increase between that and 1861 of 687,036, being 162.39 per cent, which will represent an increasing rate of something under 4 per cent., or, allowing for uncertain increases in the periods of 3.18, being little below the average of the United States.

In Upper Canada the increase has been very irregular. Its highest averages were from 1822 to 1835; its lowest immediately after the rebellion, in 1836. Our late average, say from 1856 to 1865, have been small.

For the sake of comparison, we give the progress in a few other countries:

GOVERNMENT BUILDINGS, OTTAWA CITY.

The wisdom of Her Majesty's selection of Ottawa as the capital of Canada having been fully recognised by our government, the sum of £75,000 was voted by the Legislature, for the erection of a Parliament House. Competition invited and a premium of $1000 offered for the best design not to exceed that amount, Messrs. Fuller & Jones were the successful architects, and although the design was considered by many as too costly, responsible contractors were found who tendered within the government vote, however upon examining the spot selected for erection, formerly known as the Barrack Hill, it was found from the inequality of the ground, immense excavations were necessary, which made in solid rock added prostrately to the original cost, and could not have been seen by builders nor architects. The government finding no provision for this work in the grant, and fearing it would cost a large portion of the original sum voted, stopped the works, and for some considerable time there was no progress. A commission of inquiry was appointed, and contracts were signed, and the whole of the works were done under the superintendence of Mr. Fuller of the firm of Fuller & Jones, under whose management the most highly creditable structures have been reared. The corner stone was laid with great ceremony by His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, in September, 1860, on which occasion the rejoicings partook of the nature of the game, the lumber arches and men being a novelty to most of its visitors, bullocks and sheep were roasted whole on the government ground and all comers were feasted. The site of these buildings has been very happily selected on the most elevated part of the city, they consist of the Parliament and two Departmental Buildings, forming three sides of a large square, facing the city, and from their position overlooking most of the houses. In the rear of the Parliament Building the rock descends almost perpendicularly to the river Ottawa, from hence the view is truly magnificent, and cannot be surpassed on this continent nor in Europe. The broad river is in itself a beautiful object, but the vast extent of distant forest and hill completely absorbs every attention. From this point the Chaudiere Falls are distinctly seen, and by some considered more romantic than those of Niagara; beyond the island dotted rapids of the Upper Ottawa. The river must be always interesting on account of its rapids, booms, and distinctive race of lumbermen, it is only a matter of time however to its full advantage in the spring of the year.

year, with high water, crowded with rafts. The group of buildings form a most picturesque object from every approach to the city, and can be seen at a great distance. Our illustration represents the Parliament Building as seen from the streets of the city. This building forms the head of the square, and has more architectural pretensions than the Departmental Buildings; they are all in the Italian Gothic style, acknowledged at the present time as that best adapted to the requirements of a northern climate and are of stone found in the vicinity, which is of very fine quality, two colors are used, the principal part being a warm tint, set off with lighter dressings, there is no unnecessary ornamentation but from the nature of the materials used, the building has a rich and ornate appearance due to the knowledge of the constructor in leaving the stones undressed, and thereby reflecting the light and giving a sparkling effect in the sun. The Parliament Building is about 475 feet in length, and irregular height; the body of the building is about 40 feet high, with slanting roofs; it contains the halls for the Legislative Council and Assembly, with numerous offices, behind which is the Library, built in a circular form, capable of containing 300,000 volumes. The floors of this, as well as of the Departmental Buildings, are made of concrete, thus perfectly fire-proof; an invention lately adopted in Europe. In the internal arrangement nothing appears to have been spared to make the building as perfect as possible. The wants of the government and its officials have been most carefully studied by the architect. Great care has been given to heating, lighting and ventilation; and although there are immense boilers for warming thoroughly the whole buildings, grates have been provided in every room. The principal tower is not yet at its full height of 180 feet, neither are all the offices ready for occupation, but the officials now settled in Ottawa find although the Library is not quite prepared for the reception of the books, every other Department can commence business in their respective offices, a little inconvenience is the only inconvenience until the whole buildings are thrown open. The grounds in front of the buildings, which is at present covered with the usual materials found near recently erected edifices, will be laid out in terraces, with fountains, &c. When all is completed, the beauty of the situation, combined with the elegance of the buildings, will enable the capitol of Canada to compare with any in the world.

FLAX CULTURE IN CANADA.

This new branch of Canadian industry strongly recommends itself to the notice of the agriculturists of Western Canada, and may now be justly ranked among the staple crops of this country—there being not less than from 10 to 50,000 acres under crop this year, yielding a handsome return to the grower. The growth of the seed alone is of sufficient inducement to encourage the farmers to go on extensively into its cultivation, the average quantity here being from 10 to 15 bushels, worth at current prices from 8s. 9d. to $2 per bushel of 56 lbs.—four pounds more than wheat—while the fibre is always worth as much as the seed. Linen manufactures are springing up in all the best parts of the country, one already in operation at Doon, another at Preston, both in the county of Waterloo, and a third at Streetville, in the county of Peel. This will afford an open market to those engaged in scutching and preparing the raw material for market, while a large share of employment is created for the mechanic and working classes. Several oil mills have also been erected, one in the city of Toronto, another at Woodstock, and a third at Preston, which will produce a large quantity of linseed oil and oil cake for feeding cattle.

Valuable information has been furnished from time to time by Mr. Donaldson, and farmers will do well to add this in rotation with their other crops.

cent. per oz. weight of package containing periodical matter, whether the package contain one or more numbers.

Any fraction of 4 oz. to be charged as a full rate.

On Periodicals posted from the office of publication or by News Agents or Booksellers, to regular subscribers within the Province, this rate may remain to be collected on delivery, and must in such cases be marked upon the packages and charged in the Letter Bills, but when mailed to go out of the Province such Periodical matter must be prepaid by Postage Stamp. British and United States Periodicals may be posted in Canada by News Agents and Booksellers to regular subscribers in the Province under this regulation.

Transient Periodical matter posted in Canada must in all cases be prepaid by Postage Stamp.

The above rate will be payable on delivery on all Periodical matter received from the United States, except that Canadian Editors may receive Exchange Periodicals from the United States free of Canadian Postage.

Periodicals, printed and published in Canada, may be posted addressed to any place in the United Kingdom by Canadian Packet, on prepayment by Postage Stamp of two cents each number.

This rate will be applicable to all classes of Canadian Periodicals posted as above for the United Kingdom, the exemptions to which certain classes of Canadian Periodicals are entitled, extending to such numbers only, as are addressed from the Office of publication to places within the Province.

POSTAGE RATES ON MISCELLANEOUS MATTER.

Packages of seeds, cuttings, bulbs, roots and scions, or grafts, may be posted in Canada for delivery within the Province, or to any address within the United States, on prepayment by postage stamp of a rate of one cent per ounce; and when received from the United States addressed to any place in Canada, such packages may be delivered on payment, by the person addressed, of a like rate.

The limit of weight for such packages will be one pound. No communication, whether written or printed, must be enclosed in them; and they must be so put up as to be easy of examination, for the purpose of verifying the alleged contents. If put up in bags, the bags must be simply tied at the neck, so as to admit of inspection; and, in the case of such packages mailed in Canada, the nature of the contents, such as "seeds," "roots," &c., as the case may be, must be marked on the package by the sender, as a statement of the claim to pass at the reduced rate hereby made applicable to such matter.

Book manuscript, and printers' proof-sheets (whether corrected or not), maps, prints, drawings, engravings, photographs when not on glass or in cases containing glass, and sheet music (whether printed or written), may pass in covers open at the ends or sides, and provided that no letter, or other communication intended to serve the purpose of a letter, be enclosed therein, on prepayment, when posted in Canada, by postage stamp of the ordinary printed matter rate of one cent, per ounce; or upon payment of that rate on delivery of such matter when received in the mails from the United States.

POSTAGE OF BOOKS, PATTERNS AND SAMPLES.

Patterns of merchandise, and samples, may be forwarded between Canada and the United Kingdom, France, Italy, and the German States, by the Canadian Packet mails, at book post rates, and subject to the following conditions:

The patterns or samples must not be of any intrinsic value; and this rule excludes all articles of a saleable nature, and whatever may have a value of its own, apart from its mere use as a pattern; nor must the quantity of any material or article sent as a pattern or sample be so great that it could have on this ground an intrinsic value.

The patterns, &c., must be sent in covers, open at the ends, so as to be easy of examination. Samples, however, of seeds, drugs, and such like, which cannot be sent in open covers, may be enclosed in bags of linen or other material, simply tied at the neck; but bags closed against inspection, although transparent, must not be used for the purpose.

There must be no writing or printing other than the address of the person for whom the packet is intended, the manufacturer's or trade mark and number, and price of the article.

Any infringement of the above regulations will render the packet liable to be treated and charged as a letter.

The rule which forbids the transmission through the Post of any article likely to injure the contents of the mail bags, will apply to patterns and samples; and any package transgressing this rule is to be sent to the Postmaster General.

No prints or printed matter will be allowed to pass by book post between the United Kingdom and Canada, unless printed on paper, parchment or vellum.

ACT TO SECURE TO WIVES AND CHILDREN THE BENEFIT OF ASSURANCE ON THE LIVES OF THEIR HUSBANDS AND PARENTS.

[Passed in the Session of 1865.]

HEREAS it is expedient to permit persons to insure their lives for the benefit of their wives and children;
and Her Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and Assembly of Canada, enacts as follows:

It shall be lawful for any person to insure his life for any term thereof, or for any definite period, for the benefit of his wife or of his wife and children, or of his wife and some or one of his children, or of his children, or some or one of them, and to apportion the amount of the insurance money as he may deem proper where the insurance is effected for the benefit of more than one.

The said insurance may be effected either in the name of the person whose life is insured, or in the name of his wife, or of any other person (with the assent of such other person) as trustee; and the premium on any policy of insurance hereafter effected under this Act, shall be payable during the whole of the said person's life, or during any lesser period, by annual, half-yearly, quarterly, or other payments.

It shall be lawful, within one year after the passing of this Act, for any person by writing indorsed upon or attached to any policy of insurance on his life, which may be then effected and issued before the passing of this Act, to declare that such policy and insurance shall be for the benefit of his wife, or of his wife and children, or of his wife and some or one of his children, or of his children only, or some or one of them, and to apportion the amount of the insurance money as he may deem proper, when the insurance is declared to be for the benefit of more than one.

4. When no apportionment is made in any policy or declaration as aforesaid, all parties interested in the said insurance shall be held to share equally in the same, and when it is stated in such policy or declaration that the insurance is for the benefit of the wife and children generally, or of the children generally without specifying their names, then the word "children" shall be held to mean all the children of the person whose life is insured, living at the time of his death, or whether by any other marriage or not.

5. Upon the death of the person whose life is insured, the insurance money due upon the policy shall be payable according to the terms of the policy or of the declaration as aforesaid, as the case may be, free from the claims of any creditor or creditors whomsoever.

6. Nothing contained in this Act shall be held or construed to restrict or interfere with the right of any person to effect or assign a policy for the benefit of his wife or children as at present allowed by law, nor shall it affect any assignment of any existing policy made before the passing of this Act, nor any action or proceeding pending at the time of the passing of this Act in any court of law or equity.

SHARES

In this Society are $100 each, and mature in five years from the first day of any month. Payments may be made monthly, or for a number of months in advance, in which latter case an equal number of months' credit will be allowed; or Shares may be paid in full and a Capitalized Stock Certificate at once obtained, which will entitle the holder to half-yearly dividends.

DEPOSIT BRANCH.

Sums of $10 and upwards are received, and interest thereon is calculated, and is payable, half-yearly.

TO BORROWERS.

This Society advances money on first-class improved property. Repayments may be made monthly, or any number of months may be paid in advance, thereby entitling borrowers to a proportionate credit, thus resolving the payments into quarterly, half-yearly or yearly, as may be most convenient.

Usually in cases of Private Mortgage, though interest may be punctually met, the term expires without any part of the Principal being paid, whereas with this Society, if the above repayments are regularly made, both Principal and Interest will, at the end of the term, be cleared off, and the Mortgage returned to the owner.

NO COMMISSION OR MANAGEMENT FEES ARE CHARGED.

Applications for advances may be made to any of the Society's Valuers, or to
